SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

★ How to have more fun during vacation ★ A list of fine foods, bargained every day ★ What one girl learned about easy shopping

We can proudly say—our service may not be quite as fast

Our service may not be quite as fast as you've come to expect—but each day more and more Safeway stores are joining the armed forces. We tell you this with pride, and with the hope that you'll understand. Further loss of time in carefully training new people to take the place of experienced Safeway stores. But, our new people are all working hard to fill their shoes as fast as possible.

How to keep cooking from spoiling your vacation

When most of us, you are probably staying close to home for your vacation this year—which means that household duties may fill as much routine as the vacation. But with a little advance planning you'll be amazed at how much more time there is for leisure. And you'll find vacations at home are really lots of fun.

Below, the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau has suggested several time-saving ideas. Use if you don't think they're good ones. Plan menus ahead of time. Allow plenty of variety, including a few foods you don't often buy; but choose things that cook quickly, or many be partially prepared in advance. Don't undertake elaborate, time-consuming cookery—unless that's your idea of fun!

Plan shopping lists with menus. Streamline your shopping trips to a minimum. There's no point in spending your vacation traveling back and forth to the store. Buy the major part of your groceries early in the week. Then, in between times, you'll only need to buy the most perishable foods.

Be leisurely. Shop early in the day when stores are less crowded—you are less rushed—and the selection is better.

Be forehanded. Plan foods that can be prepared in advance. Meat loaves, casseroles, molded salads, puddings and cookies are good examples.

Be cool. Do your heavy cooking in the cool of the morning, or even the night before if possible.

Be smart. Purposely plan meat leftovers every so often for easy second-day cooking. Roasts, fried chicken, baked ham, for instance.

And here's a menu that shows you what we mean by advance preparation and tasty eating.

VACATION MENU

Baked Ham Loaf—Served Hot or Cold
(Mix and mold meat in advance; keep in refrigerator until ready to bake.)

Scalloped Noodles
(Cook noodles; combine with hot cream sauce; keep in refrigerator until time to bake; dot with buttered crumbs and brown in oven.)

Buttered Freshly-Cooked Peas
(Shell and cook just before serving)

Sliced Tomato, Grapefruit Section, and Avocado Ring Salad with French Dressing
(Keep cooked tomatoes in refrigerator ready to peel; prepare salad at the last)

Heated Rolls Butter
Fresh Peaches and Cream
(Slice fruit just before serving)

Oatmeal Cookies
(Baked in an ambitious moment)

Coffee, Milk, or Iced Tea

More about vacation fun

Read the article, "V is for Vacations, Too," in this week's Family Circle. It's about sensible vacations, and more fun at home with cooking worries eliminated. Out every Thursday, free at Safeway.

POLITICS

(Editor's Note—Here are more stories about the men who are seeking your support at the polls, August 25. The Record is following its traditional policy of presenting news of ALL the candidates. The Record feels that the final decision is up to the voters. It only urges that you consider the qualifications of all the candidates and then be sure to cast your vote.)

Executive

Al Witt Jr.

Albert J. Witt jr., candidate for the office of county executive of San Mateo county, this week issued his formal announcement of his candidacy and declared:

"At the request of many tax-minded citizens and taxpayers of San Mateo county who are appreciative of the work I did during the depression years of 1932-1936 in keeping down the cost of government as county supervisor, I now formally declare my candidacy for county executive of San Mateo county.

"I can point with pride to the fact that I am backed by no group other than non-political citizens and taxpayers of this county who have been long dismayed at the continued increase of taxes under the regime of my opponents as county supervisor and county executive.

"As an independent candidate, free from any political entanglements, my efforts shall always be for the best interest of San Mateo county.

"My record for efficient constructive county government, I feel, qualifies me for the office of county executive. I earnestly solicit the vote of all citizens and taxpayers of San Mateo county."

Tax Collector

R. C. MacArthur

J. E. McCurdy, prominent San Mateo attorney, announced today that he has taken over management of Ralph C. MacArthur's campaign for County Tax Collector at the August 25 Primary Election. McCurdy said an intensive vote-getting drive will be made throughout the county for MacArthur, who has been a prominent resident of Burlingame for many years.

"Ralph C. MacArthur is eminently qualified by training and experience for the position of County Tax Collector," McCurdy said. "His 15 years banking experience, together with many years experience in business management will make him a fitting successor to Ambrose McSweeney, who served this county so well for so many years.

"In the position of Tax Collector there is great responsibility in the proper collection of taxes, and the accounting for millions of dollars. This position should be held by a man whose experience and training fit him for it, and whose honesty and integrity are above reproach. I have known Ralph MacArthur for many years, and I believe San Mateo county is fortunate to have a man of his high type seek public office."

McCurdy said that "MacArthur for Tax Collector clubs are being organized throughout the county.

Assemblyman

Harrison W. Call

Harrison W. Call, San Mateo County State Assemblyman and a candidate for re-election on both the Republican and Democratic tickets, has established a record at Sacramento that has won him the commendation of people throughout the State. Call, who is completing his third term, has established himself as an outstanding leader in Sacramento. During the last session he was chairman of the Committee on Banking and a member of the following committees: Building and Loan Associations, Constitutional Amendments, Financial Institutions, Fish and Game, Oil Industries, Public Morals, Revenue and Taxation, and the powerful Rules Committee, which governs the administration of the Legislature.

He has been acknowledged by sportsmen throughout the State to be one of the best informed men in the field of Fish and Game ever to be a member of the Legislature and has been the author of most of the sportsmen's programs during the past six years.

In the field of Revenue and Taxation he is looked upon as an expert by all who have given thought and study to this field. He is a member of the California Commission for Interstate Cooperation and has just returned from a national conference which met in Salt Lake City for the purpose of studying and preventing, as far as possible, conflicts between national, state, and municipal revenue and taxation activities.

Call has been the author of much progressive and social welfare legislation, notably in the social security and pension field. He has been the author of every successful pension bill since being a member of the Legislature and led the fight against liens and the deduction from old age pensioners.

Call is a veteran of World War I and an active member of associated sportsmen's clubs of California, the American Legion, and a life member of the Musician's Union. He has been endorsed by leaders of both parties and by labor and industry alike.

CHROMIUM AUTO TRIM

Chromium-plated parts on your car will last longer if wiped well with an oily rag, then polished with a clean dry cloth, states the California State Automobile association. During the war emergency, everything should be done to preserve vital metals.

Examine the front tires on your car regularly for signs of uneven wear, advises the California State Automobile association. Misaligned wheels are the most common cause of such wear.

County Coroner

William Crosby

William Crosby, candidate for re-election to the office of San Mateo County Coroner, states that the voters throughout the county are rallying to his support.

They apparently appreciate the efficiency of that office and the sympathetic understanding of problems of sorrow and misfortune peculiar to that office.

The county has been divided into five districts, each district having morgues and trained personnel in charge. Every person connected with the coroner's office is loyal and striving to give the taxpayers of San Mateo county full value for their tax dollars. Petty bickering and disputes of jurisdiction have been entirely eliminated. As a member of the County Executive Committee of Civilian defense I have been able to augment the staff by some 45 civilian defense deputy coroners and emergency morgues placed throughout the county, which I hope and pray will never have to be used, however the office is prepared for any event.

Dr. J. C. McGovern

"Never before in the history of our country has it been so necessary for every man, woman and child to put forth every effort to bring to a successful conclusion the task imposed on us by war," said Dr. J. C. McGovern, candidate for coroner and public administrator of San Mateo county, when interviewed this week.

"For the past two years I have been engaged in various governmental activities, the most important of which is chairman of the Procurement and Assignment committee for the Seventeenth district and chairman of Selective Service Board No. 103.

"Only those close to this work can realize the enormity of this task.

"I realize the most successful method of carrying on a political campaign is by personal contact. However, I believe that it is my patriotic duty that there should be no let up in the important work I am doing.

"For this reason I will ask the voters to bear with me. I will not be able to make the campaign it would be possible for me to make were our country functioning under normal conditions. I am taking this method through the Press of contacting you, the Electorate.

"In presenting my candidacy for the office of Coroner and Public Administrator, I feel that after seven years experience in that office, I am thoroughly qualified. I was born in and know every foot of San Mateo county.

"During my former tenure, following the footsteps of my predecessors, I appointed every mortician in the county a deputy coroner. This gave the county not only the best service without additional expense, but gave those tax payers with thousands of dollars invested an equal share of county cases.

"If returned to the Coroner's office I promise to restore this system of equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

"For the past twenty-five years I have been associated with one of the finest of youth movements, the Boy Scouts of America, and as a good Scout I can make no stronger promise than this, 'on my honor I will do my best'," Dr. McGovern concluded.

Supervisor

Richard McAllister

Challenging the fairness and extent of representation given by the incumbent supervisor, Richard T. McAllister, who seeks the position of supervisor from the second district, today made a special appeal to residents of South City-Daly City areas for support in his campaign.

McAllister, resident of San Mateo for the past 12 years, is now serving his eighth consecutive term as president of the San Mateo County Central Labor Council; and in addition has been active in county affairs as a member of the San Mateo Junior College Board, as one of the originators of the county Blood Bank; and as a member of the County Charter Study committee.

"Home owners everywhere—and especially so in the rapidly growing communities of South San Francisco and Daly City—

Lieutenant Gov.

Frederick Houser

An appeal to farmers, business, sound thinking and patriotic labor and the rank and file of voters to put an end to the "hot cargo and secondary boycott" in California was issued, last week, by hard hitting Frederick F. Houser, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Houser fired a fiery denunciation of "hot cargo activities" upon establishing offices in the Chancery building, San Francisco, for his northern Calfiornia campaign.

"Hot cargo activities are destructive," said Houser. "They are dangerous and decidedly anti-American.

Justice

Wade H. Clay

Judge Wade H. Clay, who is highly respected in this community, is seeking a third successive term as justice of the peace for the first township in San Mateo county.

Judge Clay offers, as his qualifications for the office, the most logical background, that of the past eight years of service as justice of the peace. One of his biggest achievements which he has made since his debut to the office was the installation of a records system which has been in operation ever since.

Distinction came to Judge Clay during his most recent term, when his court was given recognition from the Supreme court as a class A justice court, the first in the county. He has also served since 1935 as city judge in Daly City.

He possesses a sound knowledge of the law, having been admitted to the Bar in 1907, and has carried on an expansive legal practice for the past 35 years.

John J. Fahey, Jr.

In disucssing his campaign for the office of justice of the peace for the First township, John J. Fahey jr. pointed to his legal background and twelve years affiliation with the Federal courts, plus his six months experience as city judge of Daly City and acting justice of the peace of this township, as qualifying him for the office of justice of the peace.

Fahey was born in Daly City and has lived here most of his life. He received his schooling in the public schools of San Mateo county and the University of San Francisco—graduating from both the college of arts and sciences and the law school.

Controller

Tom Kane

Thomas J. Kane, in seeking re-election as San Mateo County controller, pointed to his four years of commendable effort in bringing that office up to date. The system of accounting he has installed for this county has been widely praised and copied throughout the state.

Kane, a U. S. Marine in the last war, is a member of the American Legion in Redwood City.

Following is an editorial published in the Redwood City Star-Advertiser under date of July 31:

We Need A Qualified Leader As County Executive

While we might not have expected quite such a one-sided result in the Star Advertiser's straw poll as it relates to the county executive campaign, it is not surprising to us that the incumbent official has been shown to have lost so much favor with the voters.

Frederick Peterson once had an opportunity to make of the San Mateo county executiveship an outstanding office that would be a model for other counties dissatisfied with the system that provides no single head. But by his stubbornness, his destructive policies, his apparent desires to establish a political machine, and his disregard for fairness, he has made San Mateo county an example of bad government. In short, he has made what we now realize a failure of his four years in office.

So when the voters are given an opportunity to put in the county executiveship a man of the caliber of Hugh H. Smith, we can see why they favor him overwhelmingly, as the latest tabulation of the Star Advertiser's poll shows.

Compared to what can best be described by the one word incompetency on the part of the incumbent, consider what Mr. Smith has to offer in his candidacy for county manager. If will then be easy to see why this newspaper, as well as many other one-time supporters of Mr. Peterson, are now favoring the candidacy of Mr. Smith.

Hugh H. Smith has shown during almost four decades of business life that he is a success. He operates the largest auto camp in the world, a lumber business, and other interests, which he has developed, but from which he is now virtually retired so that he could devote his full time to the office of county executive.

Mr. Smith has shown in his nearly quarter century of public life—18 years as mayor of Daly City, 4 years as county supervisor—that he can apply to public affairs the lessons he has learned in business. And this is greatly to the advantage of the public, which has to pay for its officials' mistakes if they make any.

Mr. Smith is dignified. He can appear in public to the credit of the county. He can make a speech if need be. He knows the entire county—from past residence in north-end Daly City, from present residence in central San Mateo, from 4 years as supervisor in southend Redwood City, from social and business contacts throughout the county in the many years he has lived here. He is completely honest. He is able to assume the leadership that is so sorely needed but sadly lacking at present in the executive's office. He does not need the county job, for he is well fixed financially; it needs him.

Mr. Smith's pledge to fight for economy will mean even more to taxpayers than the care-free manner in which the present executive has "handled his friends." Mr. Smith will not fight progressive movements just because they originated in the supervisors' chambers. He will not attempt to run every office in the courthouse except his own, but instead will handle the duties of the office to which he will be elected—county executive.

In our opinion, he is the only candidate on the ballot offering all these qualities. That's why he should be elected county executive August 25.

Congressman Anderson To Be Guest Of Honor

Congressman John Z. (Jack) Anderson will be guest of honor next Wednesday evening, at the Daly City-Colma Lion's Club Ladies night. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p. m. at Ye Olde Colonial restaurant, Junipero Serra boulevard.

All Lion members and their friends are invited to attend the affair. Dinner tickets are available through any member of the Lion's committee.

Congressman Anderson will be here for a short time before hurrying back to Washington,, but during that brief period he hopes to get around and extend greetings to everyone possible in his district.

McAllister

should be particularly interested in the issues and implications of this year's supervisorial election," declared McAllister. "More directly than some others are their interests and their future affected. Families in this area, who through their purchase of homes are making a real contribution to county growth and to the COUNTY TAX ROLLS, represent the great class of families who have been receiving least representation in county affairs.

"Every family who owns a home—regardless of its size—has a real 'stake' in San Mateo county. This family's interests deserve just as much consideration as those 'old-time' estate owners. When decisions in county affairs are made, they must be based on the interests of all, and not just the 'few.'

"Because I have always earned my living by working, as do most men and women in this area; and because I have never been associated with, or subservient to special interests, I believe I can give to South City-Daly City residents a better representation on the board of supervisors than they have before received."
